GREAT DAY FOR BLAKELEY

FORMER JOCKEY SADDLES TRIO OF WINNERS AT AQUEDUCT TRACK.

Trance Makes Re-Appearance After Year's Absence and Is Beaten—Aracee Takes Stake in Which Carter Handicap Winner Is Unplaced.

New York, April 23.—Aracee was winner of the Queens County Handicap at Aqueduct this afternoon from Prince Ahmed and Magazine. The race represented a decided improvement over his effort of a few days ago, in which he showed scant speed and was never a really serious contender in an inferior field. Today he had speed enough to always race along close to the pace and in the stretch he came on to win a good gamely run race, in which the mile was covered in 1:29.4. The largest crowd since opening day made the trip to the track and the sport from the first race to the unwieldy maiden affair at the end of the card was interesting. In the feature event, John W. Schorr, who was present at the track for the first time, added his filly, Fulfill, to bear Gretna Green company and the Schorr entry went to the post an 11 to 5 favorite. The public generally looked for the Carter Handicap winner to score, but Mr. Schorr himself expected greater things of the filly. In this he was bitterly disappointed, for at no time did she show any speed, while Gretna Green, after chasing Magazine to the stretch, quit badly and did not show the same courage that marked his Carter performance.

The condensed history of the Queens County Handicap is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	A. Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1902	Margravite	112	Wonderly	$1,050	1:46
1903	Yellow Tail	108	Shaw	1,725	1:45.4
1904	Rosetint	104	T. Burns	1,855	1:39.4
1905	St. Valentine	112	Crimmins	1,715	1:39.4
1906	Ram's Horn	118	Perrine	1,710	1:39.4
1907	W. H. Carey	115	Mountain	1,795	1:40
1908	Jack Atkin	124	Musgrave	1,553	1:39
1909	Not run this year.
1910	Aracee	109	J. Glass	1,050	1:39.4

Run previous to 1904 at a mile and seventy yards.

Trainer A. G. Blakeley, who saddled Aracee for C. J. Quinn, had a field day, sending three winners to the post. He began with the Watercress filly, Mary Davis, which took George Odon's Trance handily into cup in a five-furlong dash run in 30.4. Owner Odon also had Follie Levy in the overnight list, but scratched her and depended upon his Ben Brush filly. Though it was the first appearance of Trance since the spring meeting at Pimlico last year, she was made a hot favorite and at post time 1 to 3 was the best offered about her chances. She rushed into the lead at the start, but when Mary Davis challenged, she faltered badly and at the finish had to be hard ridden to save the place from Jeanne d'Arc. It may be that Trance needed the race to key her up properly, but she appeared just a trifle dicker on her way to the post.

The other Blakeley winner was the indefatigable colt, Pluvius, that he saddled for T. W. O'Brien in the last race. Dartworth, James Butler's starter, was favorite and, after cutting out the early pace, succumbed to the O'Brien colt.

John W. Schorr today purchased the two-year-old Scripps from James R. Keene.

KEEN INTEREST IN BREEDERS' FUTURITY.

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—The people of the blue grass region have an absorbing interest in the Breeders' Futurity for two-year-olds at half a mile, which will be the feature event of the opening of the Kentucky Association spring meeting next Saturday. No race for young horses in Kentucky in twenty years has attracted wider attention and it is doubtful if there was ever a stake carded here for which a week in advance of its decision so many trainers figured their chances as having a royal chance of winning. It is the expectation and prediction of the officials of the Kentucky Association that, barring bad weather, there will be a record-breaking opening day attendance, not entirely, of course, but chiefly because of the Futurity.

Of the sixty-eight eligibles the following are now being prepared for the race and it is reasonable to expect that at least fifteen and probably as many as eighteen will go to the post. R. H. Anderson's Bonnie Gem filly; W. E. Applegate's Big Claim; E. R. Bradley's Brass Button and Butter Ball; J. N. Camden's Deadwood; Woodford Clay's Grievance colt; T. J. & G. H. Clay's Fanny Kemble; Martin Doyle's St. Abysmus; C. L. Harrison's Housemaid; T. P. Hayes' Grand; George J. Long's Embellish; T. C. McDowell's Ima and Premier; J. C. Milam's McGraw; George B. Ott's Golden Egg; Barney Schreiber's Ivalani; W. Showalter's Eleanor Striding; James P. Ross's Mazie Mead; John Welch & Co.'s Rebel; Irving H. Wheatcroft's Marlborough; The Whip and Union Jack, and Capt. J. T. Williams' Governor Gray.

The most talked about of these youngsters are Ima, Housemaid, Golden Egg, Fanny Kemble, Governor Gray, Brass Button, Deadwood, Eleanor Striding, Union Jack, Marlborough and the Grievance colt. Ima worked three-eighths of a mile at McDowell two weeks ago in 35.4 and was considered by her owner the best product of his breeding establishment in years. She is a daughter of Hastings and the swift-footed Monarka.

Among the riders who will have mounts in this race are V. Powers, D. Austin, Mears, T. Rice, J. Deavenport, J. Howard, Gaur, Troxler, Herbert, Mountain, A. Walsh, Kehoe, Whiting, R. Lowe, Seville, Kennedy and R. Goose.

LEXINGTON PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—Because of the cold, wet weather and unfavorable track conditions, local training operations this week were retarded. Trainers, however, are of the opinion that the suspension will not seriously interfere with the racing of their horses at the spring meeting which opens next Saturday, providing the weather of the coming week is propitious. Altogether the prospects for spring racing here are the brightest in years. The program as prepared by Secretary Shelley and distributed this week, has the approval of the horsemen generally and they say good contests are sure.

The latest report from Louisville is to the effect that trainer Raleigh Colston has concluded not to start Wando in the Camden Handicap here May 2. This is heard with considerable satisfaction by trainers of other eligibles. Waldo, notwithstanding that he was given the top impost of 125 pounds for the Camden, was greatly feared. With the son of Pluvius and Salama out of it trainers are of the opinion that it is a decidedly open race, and there will be starters that probably would not have gone to the post against the Kentucky Derby favorite.

Starter James Milton and his assistants are here and they are daily schooling horses to the barrier under the walk-up system. Every stall on the grounds has been assigned, and about 100 stalls on the outside have been engaged. There will be over 600 horses here for the meeting. The arrivals during the coming week will for the greater part be shipped from Louisville. They will include the stable of William Gerst, W. J. Young, C. L. Harrison, George J. Long, James T. Williams, W. E. Applegate, Barney Schreiber, Edward Corrigan, Fred Luzader, Mose Goldblatt and others.

KENTUCKY DERBY ASSUMING A MORE OPEN ASPECT

Impressive Work by Various Candidates in Preparation for the Big Event of the Churchill Downs Meeting Leads to Division of Opinion as to Outcome—Some Derby Reminiscences

Louisville, Ky., April 23.—A week ago Waldo stood out alone in the estimation of many turfmen as the probable winner of the Kentucky Derby of 1910. Boca Grande had suffered several defeats at Jacksonville. Prior to that he had been looked upon as a dangerous rival to the great Harrison colt. But his Florida failures lowered him in the public estimation greatly. Now George Reif's Fighting Bob looms brightly on the horizon, due to the most sensational mid-April work ever shown here by a Derby eligible. Picking up more than his Derby weight and without the aid of a pacemaker, he galloped a mile over a track fully four seconds slow in the phenomenal time of 1:44.4 and then entered another eighth fast enough to beat two minutes. Figured on a fast track the mile of the son of Knight of Ellerslie would have been right at 1:40, which is a second and one-half better than any trial run by Wintergreen, winner of the Kentucky Derby of 1909. Waldo the Derby favorite, the same day and over the same track, worked a mile in 1:50.3 and a mile and one-eighth in 2:05.4, paced by that good horse, Dorante.

Fighting Bob has wintered here and never had a day in which he failed to improve. He has not been sick a minute, neither has he missed a work nor a feed. He is as lusty and strong today as before he had an hour's Derby training, and looks as if he has taken on flesh with every bit of hard work given him. Fighting Bob is perhaps the highest-type colt that has come from Knight of Ellerslie since the famous Henry of Navarre that made Byron McClelland's fortune and won a suburban for the chairman of the Jockey Club. Fighting Bob is trained by a skilled horseman of the old school, and will be ridden in the Derby by Stanley Page, who rode the colt in his two-year-old races. Trainer Gass will give him a race preparatory to the Derby in the Camden Handicap at Lexington May 3. Trainer Gass figures that unless there are more than ten starters in the Camden Handicap, the Reif colt will not have to carry a five-pounds penalty in the Derby should he win the Camden.

Fighting Bob was bred by John Welch, a conductor on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, whose home is at Spring Station, Ky., where he keeps a band of broodmares. Walter Grater broke the colt as a yearling and trained him in his early two-year-old form. Reif buying him last June at private sale. He is named in honor of Rear Admiral Bob Evans. Fighting Bob stands about fifteen hands three inches high and is a horse of wonderful length and leverage. His disposition is now perfect and he is at home on any kind of a track, so it makes no difference to him whether it is cloudy and rainy or whether the sun shines on Derby day.

Another quantity to be reckoned with in the Derby is William Gerst's candidate, Donan, with his record of fifteen victories as a two-year-old. In a try-out early in the week, he was always master of his pacemaker, that good horse, Hanbridge. He did not work as well as Fighting Bob from a time standpoint, but the fact that he made a horse like Hanbridge look cheap made him a favorite with many of the trainers. Fighting Bob is trained by a bounding action that made Hindoo and Morello famous. Trainer George Ham makes no secret of the fact that he thinks Donan will win the Derby, which opinion is shared by many.

Trainer C. C. Van Meter has never for a moment wavered in his allegiance to his good colt, Topland, another Derby eligible that may be a factor in the event to be decided May 10. Topland has trained nicely and Van Meter is "sweet" on him because he believes he will survive the distance. Save Fighting Bob he has worked by the watch as well as any candidate for the Derby in training here. He appears to have a nice dash of speed and his trainer says he was beaten three heads in Mexico by old horses in a mile race run in 1:38.3. D. Austin, who rode him on that occasion, told Mr. Van Meter, when he was dismounted, had he not been hemmed in on the rail in turning into the stretch, he would have won. He is bred on Derby lines by his grand sire, a sister to Buck Massie, one of Hanover's greatest sons.

Possibly the best maiden in the Derby is Relluf, one of George J. Long's eligibles. Mr. Long also has Don Antonio in the race but of the two Relluf stands higher in the opinion of trainer Peter Coyne, who several seasons ago sired the winner of the Derby in Sir Huon. Relluf trained with ill-luck as a two-year-old, but Coyne says he was his best yearling, and that now, as a three-year-old he seems to have regained his original form. Yesterday he worked a mile at Churchill Downs in 1:44, with his trainer waving him back throughout the last three-eighths, he having worked the first half in 49.4 and the first three-quarters in 1:15.2. The track was not fast, being rather dead from the late heavy rains. Don Antonio, stable companion of Relluf, also did a nice Derby trial, working a mile in 1:45.1.

Six weeks ago Fred Luzader did not dream of fitting Gallant Pirate for a race like the Derby. The black colt, however, seemed to train differently than any horse he had ever handled. In fact, high in flesh, he took a sprinter like Dr. Waldo Briggs by the head and ran him into submission. Now Luzader believes he has a colt of Derby class in Gallant Pirate. Luzader is not the only horseman who thinks that the Pirate of Penzance colt is decidedly improved as a three-year-old.

Boca Grande and Eye White, since landing here from Jacksonville, have been slowly cantered, and W. H. Fizer says they are sure Derby starters. The veteran horseman, Edward Corrigan, is now at the Kentucky Association track at Lexington, while E. R. Bradley's Colinet is being fitted at Idle Hour Farm. Of him Mr. Bradley said, in the presence of Col. M. J. Winn, in New York, addressing Mr. Harrison, the owner of Waldo: "Your horse is a 3 to 5 choice and Colinet will beat him and win the Derby."

Joe Morris has been regarded as promising on the strength of his good early two-year-old form. He is being trained by A. Baker, who campaigned so successfully that good filly, Crystal Maid, last year. John Furlong is credited with being a promising colt, and is, aside from Relluf, the most prominent maiden in the Derby. His trainer, Walter Grater, claims that he has in John Furlong a horse of Derby caliber. He is a brother of John McGurk, which defeated the great McChesney.

Boola Boola is owned by J. N. Camden, whose Miami finished second in the 1909 Kentucky Derby. He is being trained for the Derby by Jack Keene, who has the distinction of having won both the Moscow and St. Petersburg Derbys with the great Russian horse, Irish Lad.

Recollections of Derbys of the past are always fascinating, and those run, farthest back seem to be the ones which leave the most lasting impression. Such a close student of racing as Charles F. Price, presiding judge at Churchill Downs, in recalling the Derby which was won in 1886 by Ben Ali, says:

"James B. Haggin, accompanied by his son, Ben Ali, had come over the Rocky Mountains with the strongest stable of racers that Kentucky had ever known. Every horse was a star. Besides Hidalgo and others, he had Ban Fox, a sensational colt that was regarded as invincible. He was the auto-post favorite in the Kentucky Derby until two weeks before the event was decided. On a play or pay basis many thousands of dollars were bet on him. It was not known, of course, outside of the state, that Ben Ali, named after the younger Haggin, was a factor in the race—not until a few days before the race was it known that Ban Fox, the favorite, would not start."

"When Derby day arrived, a tremendous crowd gathered to see the race. Blue Wing, owned by Col. William Barnes, of Lexington, was the second choice. All of Lexington and Fayette County was on hand, and to a man they supported Blue Wing. Blue Wing, in the Derby trial at Lexington, ran the distance in 2:36, and the Lexingtonians bet their last dollar on him."

"A strange thing occurred that day, not a bookmaker was allowed to operate in the ring. The only method of betting was the pari-mutuel system. It came about in this way:

"Col. M. Lewis Clark, president of the jockey club, had a difference with the Western Bookmakers' Association as to the amount of money that should be paid for the privilege of booking, the split involved a difference of about $10,000. Colonel Clark declared that was the book should go on unless his terms were complied with. He was still in the center of the odds-layers stood pat, thinking that in the end they would triumph, but these men did not know Colonel Clark. And so it was that only the pari-mutuel and auction pools were sold on the big race. Young Haggin offered $1,000 for first choice, taking Ben Ali. He bought nearly all of the pools sold on that horse. The others tapered, with Blue Wing a strong second choice."

"It was a royal race, with Blue Wing a strong contender in the stretch, but Ben Ali proved the better. Being 6 to 5 favorite, he won in 2:36.4 for one mile and a half, then the Derby route was the fastest in which the Derby had been run until Spokane defeated Proctor Knott a head in 1889. Spokane's time was 2:34.4, the record for the Kentucky Derby at a mile and a half."

One of the greatest crowds in the history of racing in the middle west or south witnessed the downfall of the great Proctor Knott. He was a 1 to 2 favorite, and was the favorite in the race that people came from all over America to witness it. That year the field was free to the public, just as it is going to be this year, and in the enclosure stood thousands of persons, many of them coming there soon after sunrise of that day in order to secure a place of vantage. Spokane was ridden by Tom Kiley, and Proctor Knott's jockey was Pike Barnes. The finish gave every spectator heart disease for almost a minute. Colonel Clark said that Spokane won by a head, and nobody doubted the judge's decision. But the shock was so terrific that some time was necessary for everybody to reach a normal condition. In the running of the race, and while entering the stretch, Proctor Knott bolted to within ten feet of the outside of the track. Kiley, on Spokane, was next to the rail, and as Proctor Knott bore out, Kiley took the center of the course, and when he went under the wire, he was still in the center, while Proctor Knott finished close to the judges' stand. Turfmen, able to judge, say that if Proctor Knott had not bolted at the head of the stretch, he would have won, inasmuch as he lost six or seven lengths when he bolted.

Sam Bryant, the owner of Proctor Knott, made many excuses for the defeat of his horse, and he was justified in claiming that he lost the Derby because Proctor Knott went wide. However, when Spokane and Proctor Knott next met in the Sheridan Stakes in Chicago, Spokane won rather handily. To this day, men familiar with the turf in the time of Spokane and Proctor Knott contend that Bryant, who adhered strictly to the old style of training, had Proctor Knott honed too fine. In other words, the horse had been overtrained. Bryant's idea was, if a spell came, to give a racer a ball.

Spokane was a son of Hyder Ali, and he belonged to Noah Armstrong, owner of the Montana Stable. Although little was known of him, and although he came across the continent, he was second choice in the Derby, and in the pari-mutuel machines an unusual thing happened. As it seemed a foregone conclusion that Proctor Knott would win, few backed him for the place, thinking he would pay little or nothing. The result was that place tickets paid as much as the straight ones would have paid had Proctor Knott won. Spokane was a blaze-faced chestnut, Proctor Knott was a chestnut also, of good proportions, and racy looking, but with a rather gross head.

The New Louisville Jockey Club, which is sending to a limited number of individuals an invitation to join the club, is receiving quick responses. It is an honor to belong to the New Louisville Jockey Club and membership carries with it many privileges. Each member, including the members of his family (excepting sons who have attained the age of twenty-one years), is entitled to admission to the grounds, grandstand, paddock and clubhouse. The clubhouse will be reserved for the exclusive use of the members, their families and guests. The club-house membership is now being revised for the first time in seven years. The membership embraces the foremost men and families of Louisville and the commonwealth. During the regime of Col. M. Lewis Clark the stockholders of the jockey club were the members, but the transfer of stock did not necessarily convey membership with it.

Col. W. E. Applegate disposed of all of his once big band of broodmares but Volma, for the reason that he owns a number of fillies in partnership with W. G. Yanke, and if the racing horizon clears he will put these mares in the stud when they are done with racing.

If the stable of W. G. Yanke has a starter in the Breeders' Futurity at Lexington, it is up to Swish and Incision. Trainer Walker said yesterday that it will likely be the latter, a black son of Cesarion and Belle Swift. Trainer Walker believes that of the entries in training at Churchill Downs that are likely to start in the big two-year-old event at Lexington, C. L. Harrison's filly, Housemaid, and George J. Long's two colts, Embellish and Exemplar, are the only ones that look dangerous. The tip from Lexington received by certain stables at the Downs for the race is W. Showalter's Eleanor Striding, trained at Lexington in the stable of Juno Collins. She is a black filly by Stalwart—Two Heart.

Eye White, a Derby eligible that arrived from Jacksonville early in the week, worked an easy half in 49.4 yesterday.

Topland, the chief Derby dependence of C. C. Van Meter, worked seven-eighths in 1:33.4.

PIMLICO CARD IS RIDDLED

WITHDRAWALS ARE NUMEROUS ON ACCOUNT OF TRYING TRACK CONDITIONS.

High Private Wins Pimlico Handicap, but Not in Fashion that Impresses—Priscillian Carded to Start Monday.

Baltimore, Md., April 23.—Numerous withdrawals ruined a card that held forth the promise of the best day's racing of the season at Pimlico this afternoon. The going was lumpy and heavy and scratches were numerous, the fields in a majority of instances being reduced to four horses. The first three races were tame contests, but the finishes in the last four close and exceedingly interesting. The seventh race, which was for two-year-olds, furnished the best contest of the afternoon, the result remaining in doubt until the official placing was displayed. The winner of this race turned up in Dorchester, which beat Sir Chilton a nose on the post.

Besides the Pimlico Handicap, there were offered as features the Patapsco Steeplechase and the Baltimore Club Cup, which called for gentlemen riders. Five of the nine carded in the Pimlico Handicap were withdrawn, which left High Private in what looked like a soft spot, and he was always held at a short price. High Private made all of his own pace and, although he won easily, his race was not such an impressive one. This once good racer will have to show a better performance than he did today to rank with the horses that he triumphed over last season.

The steeplechase was unsatisfactory in that the favorite, Dr. Pillow, was beaten off by Bersi after being the victim of what looked like an ill-judged ride. Dr. Heard, the second choice, was a keen factor until the twelfth fence, where he swerved a bit and, after getting over, lost his rider. The winner turned up in Bersi, which came in for strong support.

Patriot, with E. Tucker in the saddle and favorite in the betting, proved an easy winner in the Baltimore Cup race. He came from behind and easily disposed of Racing Bell and Ruble in the stretch. The latter was ridden by young Donald Pons of Jacksonville.

The jumpers, Thistledeale and Dacca, have been sold to G. A. Brander.

Priscillian, which raced in England in the Belmont colors last year, is carded as a starter in the third race at Pimlico on Monday.

M. Burns, trainer of Collis Ormsby, was fined $50 by the stewards for not reporting his horse to the race judge in time for the sixth race.

F. W. Gerhardt, who is here soliciting entries for the stakes offered by the Ontario and Hamilton clubs, will leave for Lexington on Tuesday next.

STRODE AFTER DIVISION OF DATES.

Pensacola, Fla., April 23.—This marked the last day of local racing sanctioned by the Southern Jockey Club, but the management announced that there would be a continuation of the racing until April 29, the limit permissible under the laws of Florida. Nothing out of the ordinary attended today's racing, excepting that poor starting contributed to the defeats of some of the smartly backed horses. The attendance was again large and pleasant weather added to the enjoyment of the spectators. During the afternoon the officials announced that Jockey Franklin had been ruled off the turf for life. They claim to have conclusive evidence that Franklin tried to fix the race won by Caltha some time ago. Franklin has been in Kentucky for some time.

J. U. Strode, who is here tonight for New Orleans, had an informal conference with the managers here regarding future plans for Pensacola racing. Mr. Strode, who is general manager of the Tampa track, favors a curtailment of the Florida racing season and will advocate a division of dates for the Florida tracks.

GOSSIP FROM THE BLUE GRASS REGION.

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—J. N. Camden's chestnut colt, Kootenay, by Ben Strome—My Beauty, has been turned out. Trainer Jack Baker sent Charles W. Moore's two-year-old bay filly by Star Ruby—Virginia Moore to Mere Hill Stud this week to be turned out.

A. W. Booker is here galloping horses for T. P. Hayes.

Charles McCracken, former superintendent of Millstream Stud, arrived here Thursday. He spent the winter at Norfolk, Va.

Harry Shannon is ill with a tubercular affliction at the home of his parents on the Bryant Station pike. He arrived here a few days ago from Mineral Wells, Tex.

Harry Stanhope, the breeder of Rhoda B. (dam of the English Derby winner, Orby), is just over a severe illness.

Dillard Hill is to train Jack Binn. He will race him here and at Louisville and will then ship to Canada.

Jockey V. Powers will come here to ride Housemaid in the Breeders' Futurity.

TWO GOOD BROODMARES DEAD.

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—Semper Paratus and Long Shore, two of the famous old matrons at Elliot C. Cowdin's Maplehurst Stud, died a short while ago of the infirmities of age. They were both foaled in 1887. Semper Paratus was by Stratford, out of Semper Felix, by Phaeton, and was the dam of the stake winners On Deck, The Minute Man and Cathedral, and the winners Sentry, Outpost and Semper Vivant, the dam of Semper Eadem, Semper Vivex and Always Faithful. Long Shore came also from the Levity family, she being by Longfellow, out of Sea Shell, Long Shore was a stake winner and was the dam of the noted horses Applegate, Winged Foot, Longshoreman and Kitefoot. Mr. Cowdin sent this week to the court of James R. Keene's Disguise the noted mare Homespun, daughter of Hanover and Spinaway, and dam of The Squire and Counterpane. Counterpane, now a four-year-old, was recently sent to Harry Payne Whitney's Brookdale Stud in New Jersey to be mated with Burgo-master. Along with her went Sankara and Spindrift to be mated with Hamburg. There are four yearlings at the Maplehurst Stud.

J. B. Respass is having great luck in the matter of foals this year. Nine of his mares at John D. Carr's farm have produced thus far and there are eight colts. The latest arrivals are a chestnut colt by Dick Welles, from Mary Lavina and a brown colt by Marathon, from Queen-a-Day.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

In the Prix Gresillons, run at Maisons-Lafitte Friday, Eugene Fischhof's Perkeo finished second.

A. Burton will ride on the Kentucky tracks this season under the management of his brother, Fred Burton.

Lucien O. Appleby, who has been on the sick list for several months, has recovered sufficiently to attend the races at Aqueduct.

Dr. McCabe, who formerly trained for Richard Croker, trained Bachelor's Double, which won the City and Suburban Handicap at Epsom a few days ago.

RALEIGH IS HANDICAP WINNER.

San Francisco, Cal., April 23.—Interesting racing was witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the season at Oakland today. Perfect weather prevailed. Interest centered principally in the Valjejo Handicap, at a mile. Chester Krum was withdrawn, owing to his being afflicted with blood trouble. Orbicular opened favorite, but the bulk of the public support was given to Jim Gaffney and he went to the post first choice. Kid North set the pace for about seven furlongs, with Raleigh in close attendance. When the stretch was reached Raleigh assumed command and, drawing away, won from Jim Gaffney. Orbicular received poor handling and failed to cut any figures.

Favorites landed three races. A killing was made on Spohn, which outgamed Bishop W. in a spirited tussle throughout the final furlong. Jim Basy showed to be one of the best youngsters here by the manner of his victory in the two-year-old dash. Ellerd won all the way in the third. Dr. Dougherty was claimed for $500 by E. Wayland, but F. Harrington refused to surrender the horse and created considerable disturbance. He alleged the horse was worth more than that and that Wayland borrowed the money with which to make a claim. Official action would doubtless be taken if Harrington does not change his mind.

Likely Diendonne, the odds-on favorite, led practically all the way in the last race, but was hard pressed at the end by Balronia. With a stronger rider the filly might have beaten him. Jockey Vandusen was fined $25 by the judges for cutting across with Ellerd and jockey Thomas was fined for a similar offense in the fourth. Frazier & Farris have dissolved partnership. Farris takes Thistle Belle, Cock Sure and Lord Clinton. Cornerfield and Fernando will run in the name of A. Frazier. A. Greenlee takes Kiefer. Jockey J. Ranch and W. Covington have bought Eddie Graney from Joseph Harlan. Ranch may establish a racing stable of his own.

"Figures Tell."

If you want to "Get Wise" to the "Sure Way" to "Win"—then read this "Ad." "I guarantee" that you can take your pencil and figure the result of playing my "Sure Shot Method" and prove it "A Sure Winner" before you bet a dollar. The following is a copy in substance of my "Ad." which was printed in this paper two (2) years ago (May 10, 1908), and my "Ad." has appeared "continuously" every Sunday since that time:

"A POSITIVE WINNER"

"Do you want a method of playing the races that will make you independent? I have that method and I mean all I say. I have 'successfully' operated my method for years, and I know it is infallible. I have positively 'solved the problem' of beating the races with small capital. Race records will verify my claims or you get your money refunded. Very little capital required to earn $12 daily. This is my permanent address and I am responsible and 'I guarantee' My Method to be just as represented. If you are tired of losing money, let me send you My Method and put you on the road to 'Success.' Upon rec't of M. O. $5 I will send you My Method and you will find it 'A sure winner.'"

Address
WM. H. SUTTON, Chemist,
1021 West 25th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"My Method" of playing the races has "stood the test of time" and has made hundreds of friends for me all over the "U. S." and "Canada." "It gets the money to a certainty." You can take $25 capital and beat any "Handbook" and "I guarantee it." Only a minute necessary to pick a Safe "One Best Bet" every morning from the "Entries" and you "Win" nearly every bet you make and at good prices. Played with a capital of $40 "I guarantee" that My Sure Shot Method "Won" during the year 1908 exactly $1,840.00 and during the year 1909 exactly $2,465.00 and has "Won" this year to date exactly $620.00. It has not had a losing month in (4) years, and you can take the records and easily "prove" all I say to be the truth before you bet a dollar. I claim "My Method" to be the only "Simple" and "Sensible" and "Practical" Plan ever discovered that has "Made Good." It has shown hundreds of men the "easy way" to make a living playing the races with small capital. I will "refund your money" if you don't find my "Sure Shot Method" exactly as represented by me. Remember—there is a better class of horses running this year than ever before in the history of racing. If you want to "make money" and make it "sure" and clean up from $100 to $300 a month—then send for My "Sure Shot Method" and "Win." My personal attention given to each order received. All correspondence strictly confidential. Everything sent complete for Handbook and Poolroom and Track upon rec't of M. O. $5. Address
